The FDA Petition...

Ready, Set, Comment!

The FDA has opened a “docket” for our recent petition, so now you can file your own comment.

Please remember, this is about the LAW, not about health effects. This is about FDA’s legal obligation to evaluate how people are being exposed, and to develop techniques for minimizing that exposure.

It’s the FDA that is supposed to be measuring radiation levels in school classrooms, and promoting best practices to minimize the exposure to our kids.

It’s the FDA that is supposed to be warning utilities and consumers about smart meters, mandating opt-out policies and helping people reduce their exposures.

It’s the FDA this is supposed to be promoting point-of-purchase warnings about cell phones, routers, game consoles, tablets, wearables and all other wireless devices.

It’s the FDA that is supposed to be collecting information about adverse reactions to RF radiation exposure.

The FDA is flagrantly defying the law. And they'll keep doing it if no one complains. The agency needs to hear from you now. Today.
